All written materials, communications, surveys and initiatives undertaken by IIGCC are designed solely to support investors in understanding risks and opportunities associated with climate change and take action to address them. Our work is conducted in accordance with all relevant laws, legislation, rules and regulations including data protection, competition laws and acting in concert rules. Participants in any initiative will not be asked for and must not disclose or exchange strategic or competitively sensitive information or conduct themselves in any way that could restrict competition between members or their investment companies or result in members or the investment companies acting in concert. These materials serve as a guidance only and must not be used for competing companies to reach anticompetitive agreements. IIGCC's materials and services to members do not include financial, legal or investment advice.

As a foundational principle, IIGCC and the investor networks who have contributed to this guidance do not require or seek collective decision-making or action with respect to acquiring, holding, disposing and/or voting of securities. Investors are independent fiduciaries responsible for their own investment and voting decisions and must always act completely independently to set their own strategies, policies and practices based on their own best interests and decision making and the overarching fiduciary duties owed to their clients and beneficiaries for short, medium and long-term value preservation as the case may be. The use of particular tools and guidance, including the scope of participation in any initiatives, is at the sole discretion of individual signatories and subject to their own due diligence.
